

Midreshet Ein Hanatziv

Located on Kibbutz Ein Hanatziv, Midreshet Ein Hanatziv offers an integrated program for students living abroad at an Israeli seminary. Surrounded by the quiet beauty of the kibbutz, we provide a dynamic learning environment with a balanced focus on Jewish studies.
Our approach, rooted in the Torah, equips students for both traditional and contemporary roles, preparing them to make a meaningful impact outside of the classroom.

This year, with the Midrasha celebrating 40 years of operation, we are excited to have opened a second branch in Kiryat Shemona. This effort aims to address the significant challenges faced by the residents of Kiryat Shemona, who were severely impacted by the current Gaza War and the prolonged evacuation of area residents.
This branch was founded out of a vision of solidarity and social responsibility and a belief that, alongside the physical needs of the North of Israel, there is also a great need for bolstering of spirits.

The students will integrate into the urban landscape, take part in responding to the needs of the local community following the Gaza War, and create a bridge between Torah learning and communal and social action.

"Find Your Path in Torah

Our beit midrash is one that not only teaches Torah of the past, but also creates and reveals the Torah of today every day, in a serious and open minded way.
We ask questions about Judaism in contemporary times and specifically about women's roles in both the past and the future in Jewish life and leadership.
Our program gives our students an opportunity to experience the daily life of an Israeli. Our overseas students are not only immersed in a program with 60-80 Israeli students, living out the same daily schedule, but they also live on a religious kibbutz in beautiful, rural Israel.

For those students who are considering army service in the IDF, Ein Hanatziv provides preparation for army service, help with communication with the army and accompaniment throughout the army service.

Our students live in small home-like dorms on the Ein Hanatziv kibbutz and share rooms with the Israeli participants of the program.
Our large, diverse staff, enables each student to create a unique schedule which fits their goals for learning and spiritual growth. Our classes range from Tanakh, Talmud and the history of Jewish Law to Jewish Philosophy, Chassidut, and Gender and Judaism.

The yearlong curriculum includes dedicated study and on-site experiences (tiyulim) to better understand Israeli culture and society and will focus on contemporary social and cultural issues such as minorities in Israel, social and inter-religious changes, Israel and world Jewry, the philosophy of Zionism past and present, the Religious Kibbutz movement, and the State of Israel as a modern Jewish Democracy.
